

REP'S LAST GUN.

FIRE AT THE OPERA HOUSE
SATURDAY EVENING.

Speeches by J. C. Graham, Robert
Anderson and B. H. Jones—Good
Music by the Provo Glee Club.

The last Republican rally of the campaign in Provo was held in the opera house Saturday evening, with a good sized audience in attendance. As to the effect of the meeting, the story is already told by the balloons. It is therefore unnecessary for us to give an extended report.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor S. S. Jones, who in a few words introduced Justice A. A. Noon as the chairman of the evening.

Robert Anderson spoke briefly on the history of the Republican party, after which Postmaster John C. Graham made a fiery defense of Republican gold standard doctrine. He said that the Democratic party is just now the same as it always was and that Cleveland is still its prophet. That that bulky gentleman is still opposed to silver and consequently the Democratic party must be (ignoring the fact that Cleveland is a supporter of McKinley) He said the Republican party of Utah was always in favor of free silver at 16 to 1, but received no applause. He hopped onto his baby of protection and condemned Senator Cannon for opposing the Dingley bill, which the speaker declared was an ideal protective measure. He said that by the operation of the Dingley law Utah on silver-lead ores had realized $1,000,000 and on wool $4,500,000. He quoted the American Protective League on comparisons between 1895 and 1898. Condemned the proposed amendments to the State Constitution, and after two announcements of "in conclusion," subsided.

B. H. Jones of Brigham was then introduced as a "gentleman who has been preaching Republicanism." He quoted the statements of writers on political economy that money does not represent wealth, and the crowd began to go out. (Here the entrance of the delayed quartette awakened some applause.) He said that the gold Democrats are the "real Democrats" and then called Senator Cannon a Democrat. He inferred his own standing to be that of a "silver Republican." Said Eldredge is as good a silver man as anyone, and that the next Congress will be Republican and consequently should be elected so he will "stand in." Said Eldredge is a business man and never breaks contracts (applause from the stage). Said if Roberts were running for a State office it would be different and that his family relations would not enter into the matter. He started to say something about the war, and said, "I believe that the Democrats are just as good as the Republicans." (This statement elicited the only real applause of the evening.) The speaker was evidently flustered and soon subsided.

The Provo quartette sang a couple of selections which were well received, and as the crowd then all commenced to file out the chairman declared the meeting over.

Robbery at Logan.

City Recorder Sophia Cardon discovered today that the city safe had been opened at some time between Saturday night and this morning and $5.40, all the city money undeposited, removed. The burglar had to unlock the room door, inner doors of safe and steel inner door leading to money drawers, all having Yale locks. By inadvertence she forgot to turn the combination on the outer doors.

The case is enveloped in the deepest mystery as it involves either a mistake as to where the recorder placed the money, and she has hunted desks and other receptacles thoroughly, or duplicate keys exist, as both doors and drawer were found locked exactly as left. Another peculiar thing is that in the drawer immediately beneath, with key in, the recorder kept her personal money, which was untouched.

One theory is that a practical joker removed the money before the safe was locked, but the recorder certainly sincerely believes a robbery has been committed, and no other solution is in sight at present.—Correspondence Tribune, Monday.

Fend at Castle Gate.

There is a factional rumpus among the different sections of the Italian element, which has been the cause of a couple of trials before Judge Duerton. The first, that of Bert Pesseta and Domenico Melano, who were charged with threatening the life of Cupo Silverin, was dismissed, but the second, that of Vincenzo Jacinto was more interesting. The last case was one of assault with intent to commit bodily injury. Jacinto met Baptista between Castle Gate and Helper and took hold of him and fired a revolver at him, which fortunately missed him, and then beat him over the head with the butt of the weapon, inflicting several scalp wounds and left him insensible on the ground. Jacinto was fined $20, or a day in jail for each "plunk." There are two more cases to come out of this one.—Correspondence Herald, Saturday.

A Big Excursion.

About 200 people were on board the Rio Grande Western train to Tintic Sunday from Salt Lake and the valley towns. Provo contributed fifty-five passengers. This is the second "last excursion" over this popular road, which promises in the excursion line to rival Patti's "farewells."

The Advocate in New Form.

A. B. Williams went down to Richfield last week and looked over the field to ascertain what was the outlook for a new paper there. He returned Wednesday, and reports that there is an excellent opening in that city for a paper and job office, and that he has decided to take advantage of the opportunity. He goes to Salt Lake today to purchase a plant, and expects to begin operations in his new field about December 1st. The paper will be the old Advocate in new form, and under new management. It will be independent in politics.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid.
